In furtherance of his plan Huggins led his men to victory against the Giants at the Polo Grounds yesterday. The score was 8 to 3. It was the first home appearance of the Giants since their Western trip, and, although the men of McGraw fielded ever so badly, they were welcome, for at least they hit the ball. St. Louis had a slight margin in batting and a wide one in fielding. In fact, lack Miller made one of the best plays of the year when he caught a line drive from Stock's bat with a leaping one-hand Lee Magee, upon coming in from the outfield, insisted on shaking hands with Miller, and told his teammate: "On the level, Jack, that was the best catch I ever saw in my life."

Magee has been committed in St. Louis, which somewhat limits the extent of his remark, but it was a good catch.

Zinn Beck, who comes from Waco, Tex., did the bulk of the hitting for the Cardinals, getting three singles and a triple in four times at bat, and Jack Miller made three hits, which helped a lot in the scoring. For the Giants Eddie Grant hammered out three doubles, one in right field, one in centre and one in left, but just to keep Arthur Fletcher

Lyons, France.

Lyons, France, June 5.—A decision of considerable importance to American athletics was reached to-day by the International Amateur Athletic Federation committee on rules, regulations and records.

By 5 votes to 1 the committee rejected the American contention that there should be no dig-out at the take-off in the broad jump.

During the discussion James E. Sullivan, president of the committee, pointed out that the American method was a content of the American SECOND GAME.
